SHRINE WOMEN HAVE HAD AN ACTIVE SEASON

Daughters of Isis Will Play Large Part in the Shrine Sokum Sirkus, Making It Regular Bazaar — Finely Decorated Booths

Daughters of Isis, the Ladies Auxiliary to the Shrine has had an unusually active season.

The side degree, known in all orders and conferred on men as well as women is similar to an entertainment committee and holds an annual ceremonial and social gathering, this year's taking place last week. A brilliant banquet, talks by illustrious Potentate Shirley Christy and other prominent Shriners, stimulated interest in the Shrine Sokum Sirkus, which opens at The Gardens tonight. One meeting a year did not suffice and special sessions have been held day by day, the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters who make up the membership, gathering informally to arrange unique and clever features for the week end event, the success of which will assure an El Zarliah Temple and Auditorium for Phoenix.

In the white costume and white face of the order, the three hundred women members who belong to the local branch and who will take part in the fête, will also join in this evening's monster parade.

Since its small beginning fifteen years ago, the Daughters has grown until today it is one of the foremost societies of its kind in the state. Many of its first supporters are counted among its present active workers and they, assisted by charming groups of society matrons and maids will preside over the various booths. Miss Ella Lohrs is chairman of this department and has not overlooked a possible attraction for the "big show."

Mrs. Selma J. Michelson is to be the manager of a country store that will be quite in keeping with the old fashioned circus. The only strictly up to the second feature about the store will be the manner in which it is conducted.

Miss Andre Lawrence will sell tags. No one knows nor cares what kind, but the sale will be record breaking in charge of this popular young woman.

Mrs. B. E. Marks will tell of the wonders of the side shows. She will draw word pictures of the wonders to be seen and the thousands who have confidence in Mrs. Marks will give heed to her advice and enter to behold, who knows?

Everyone wants his or her photograph in remembrance of a happy time. In this case they must not fail to find Miss Luck Nelson, proprietor of the studio.

A dance hall will be managed by Mrs. White and will be one of the particularly popular diversions.

Mrs. H. M. Lewis will dispense ice cream, cake and candies and there will be a bewildering number of pretty girls who will act as waitresses.

Miss Emma Lohrs will sell novelties of every sort and description, and they will be articles of the worth while sort.

The Peggy Boat will be captained by Miss Dorothy Michelson and will be one of the leading "side" attractions.

Mrs. Jo E. Rickard will preside at the Wheel of Fortune booth and if anyone was well chosen it was Mrs. Rickard, who will gently but firmly see that the wheel runs. On the same basis a grab bag will be managed by Mrs. E. L. Manning who hopes to reap an independent fortune for the shrine.

For many weeks the committees have been working assiduously and in perfect harmony. Everyone associated with the Sirkus has done his utmost towards its unqualified success including the Daughters of Isis.

THE GREAT LEAP AT LION TODAY

Act Said to Be Most Dangerous Ever Performed for Movies Incorporated in Thrilling Kentucky Feud Story

In this day and time, people are not surprised, no matter what seemingly impossible feat has been performed and the movies are responsible for this fact.

In the four-reel production of "The Great Leap" which is shown at the Lion theater today and tomorrow, two well known people of the movie world, Robert Harron and Mae Marsh, ride a horse over a precipice and plunge to the river fifty feet below and swim out unharmed. This feat is said to be the most sensational and daring ever performed for moving pictures and it was all caught by the camera men in such a manner that every detail is clearly shown. Miss Marsh said that she wasn't scared a bit until it was all over, but that she didn't want to do it over. "The Great Leap" takes its name from this act and is incorporated in a thrilling Kentucky feud story, which takes 1,000 feet of film to present. It is shown at the Lion today and will no doubt draw big crowds, as "The

The management of the Lion announces that "The Great Leap" will be played at regular prices, although it is what is known as a "big" feat.

HIS DAUGHTERS DISAPPEAR

(Associated Press Dispatch)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Shan-ching Shu, Chinese consul general at San Francisco, reported to the police tonight the disappearance of his two daughters, Shao-qua, aged fifteen, and Min Lion, aged eight. The consul general said he saw both girls safely in bed at ten o'clock last night and at 6:45 o'clock today they were gone, with all their clothing. He cannot account for their disappearance.

The way Charles Herzog's Cincinnati Reds have been slugging what are supposed to be regular ball teams is unfair to the other National leaguers. Herzog knows well enough that the critics have placed the Reds down there somewhere and they should behave.
